The Hopi Senior Center celebrated their Elder Day Heritage June 8th. Among the things we had was the opportunity to sit and interview our local elders. The elders were sweet and shared thoughts about life and living.

One of the elders shared that we need to pay attention to our elders and listen to their wisdom. Although the rest of the Hopi reservation is located in a remote area, the elders of the Hopi reservation are still beloved and respected. They are a source of guidance and encouragement for the younger generation.

In the future, we hope to continue this tradition of honoring our elders and learning from their knowledge and experience. As we move forward, we must remember the wisdom and guidance that our elders have imparted to us.
TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 2013 | HOPI TUTUVENI

A longstanding agreement-to-government has been able to advocate for improvements to our Hopi and with our extended family and set within our tribal boundaries to work to improve our quality of life. We have reached out to the Hopi Tribe to pursue legal action to stop the auction. Due to the mismanagement of our financial audits, which puts funddings in jeopardy, we have been diligent in addressing Hopi Tribal employees, served as a reminder that the past audits were not complete was due to the mismanagement of the tribe's investments which prevents the auditors from properly completing the remaining audits. The Hopi Tribal Council has hired an investigation firm to help remedy this issue. One finding the Tribes Council and I recently learned that the investigation was that the Tribe had invested $8 million in the French. The Hopi Tribe must work properly approach in the Tribal Council.

TRIBAL WATER SOURCES

HAMP PROJECT
The Hopi Anmisc. Mitigation Project continues to move forward with plans to provide a safe drinking water solution for First & Second Mesa villages and has been challenged by arsenic contamination. The water was drawn from the Hard Rock Ranch Range Unit, which with proper treatment will allow for a quality drinking water.

TRIBAL GOVERNMENT ISSUES

NAVAJO/HOPI RELOCATION
The Hopi Tribe advocated to the U.S. Government to ensure that the closure of the Hopi Nation Relocation Office due to the lack of adequate assistance be provided. The Hopi Tribe continues to advocate on behalf of the reservation’s residents by reducing the number of unoccupied homes. The Hopi Tribe filed a lawsuit against the Navajo Nation in an effort to correct the mismanagement of the audit.

PHOENIX - - The U.S.
Suicide is a topic that is difficult to discuss and extremely difficult to discuss. Discussing suicide is an issue we need to talk about and is a preventable mental health problem. Our Native youth commit suicide more than three times the rate of other young Americans, according to federal government figures. An article written by Stephanie Woodard (100) (2012) wrote that suicide is an epidemic for Native American Indian youth. Suicide for American Indians and Alaska Natives is higher than any other ethnic group in the United States, 70% higher than the rate for the general population of the United States. The highest rate in our nation is among American Indian youth ages 15-24. According to 2008 data from Indian Health Services, the rate of suicide for young adults 15-24, the rate of suicide for adults ages 18-65, is 46.6. Reports indicate that suicide is the 3rd leading cause of death for young people ages 15-24, the 10th leading cause of death for adults 18-65. What if you are having thoughts, what can you do? Take it seriously just as you would if you were physically having health problems. Don’t sit in a crisis alone, talk to a professional who can help. Talk to others who you are close with that can support you through the crisis. Help people that wouldn’t like to talk and will help you talk appropriate. Care talk with an empathetic, a helper. Avoid alcohol or other drugs. What if a friend talks about suicide, what can you do? If the person is in danger, evacuate the building and call 911. Listen closely and without judgment remain calm. Acknowledge the pain they are feeling. Contact your friend for professional help. Tell a professional about the situation even if it means breaking their confidence. SAFETY is a priority. Get support and take care of yourself. Warning Signs for suicide? • Threatening or hurting to kill self • Looking for ways to kill self • Seeking access to weapons, pills, or other means of suicide • Talking or writing about death, dying or suicide • Giving away personal items of value Additional signs to look for, anger, seeking revenge, acting recklessly speaking about risky activity, helpless/ hopeless no solution and feeling trapped, withholding from friends and family. agitation, unable to sleep or sleeping all day, dramatic changes in mood, expresses no reason for living and has lost all hope. Protective factors are more. Encourage: • Positive social support • Is spiritually or culturally connected • Hone a sense of responsibility to family, children in the home, pregnancy • Positive coping skills, positive problem-solving skills • If warning signs are present start asking questions. Asking doesn’t increase their risk. • Are you feeling hopeless about the present future? • Have you had thoughts about taking your life? • How do you plan to take your life? • If the answers are YES… • Ask and Assist the person immediately. • Limit access to means of suicide (weapon, medication, etc) • Seek help or take in the situation • Encourage talking or walking about death, dying or suicide • Inform and involve someone close to the person • Get more information. Suicide is not about numbers, it’s about people and the community. Wonderful people with every- thing ahead of them can turn around. It’s important to remember even if it means breaking their confidence. There is hope even if it means breaking their confidence. There is hope for them and you too. There is hope even if it means breaking their confidence. There is hope even if it means breaking their confidence. There is hope even if it means breaking their confidence. There is hope even if it means breaking their confidence.

The website features information about Hopi history, culture, and language. It also includes a virtual tour of the reservation, a gallery of photos, and a directory of Hopi businesses.

The website is a joint project of the Hopi Tribal Council and the Hopi Nation. It is designed to be a resource for people who are interested in learning about Hopi culture and language.

The website was launched in partnership with the Hopi Education Fund, which is a non-profit organization that supports Hopi education.

The website was developed by the Hopi Information Technology Department, which is responsible for managing the Hopi reservation.

The Hopi High School's football team got hyped up before kickoff! Blake Sekaquaptewa kicked off and the Hopi Flyers received the kickoff.

Charles Youvella and Matt Horne make a tackle for the final score 70 to 0. With this group of kids, I have had them for three years and I have high expectations for this group. Our ultimate goal in the state playoffs, which hasn’t been done in five years, is to make it to the championship.

Coach Saban said, "I'd like to gear up to Rough Rock for coming out and playing hard, a lot of our players were sloppy; we made a lot of mistakes and penalties which we will work on this week." Coach Saban said he is happy with the overall performance of his players and team effort, but feels that they need to improve on some things. Players to look out for is our wide receiver, Matt Horne who is important offensive, Matt Hoytapa who is coming off as a for- mer infielder to a quarter- back; and Daniel Hiva, back and running back who played very well after coming off an ACL tear. Charles Youvella, receiver and Clayton Howard, line- man.

The Hopi Flyers played a tough game on Fri. Aug. 30, in Tuba City and came away with a win which puts their record at 2-0. Next game will be against the Brain Hoop Dualism.
