PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT
from the Bureau of Indian Affairs Hopi Agency Office of the Superintendent

Wastewater Discharge into Keams Canyon Wash Jan. 26, 2015 until further notice

The Hopi public is being notified that wastewater from the Keams Canyon BIA lagoon is being discharged into the Keams Canyon Wash due to the disconnection of the largest line in one of the lagoons. Discharging wastewater into the Wash is a necessary step for the long-term use of the lagoon's complex drainage system. Discharge levels are not expected to impact the quality of the water in the Wash or result in any public health concerns.

The Hopi Tribe’s Facilities Management Office and Hopi Health Services have been notified of the discharge and will be monitoring water quality to ensure compliance with federal regulations. It's important that all domestic animals be kept away from the area as this wastewater is not considered safe and cannot be allowed to enter the waterway. The Hopi Tribe's Environmental Protection Department and Water Resources Programs will monitor all activities related to the discharge.

Black Mesa... ancestral homelands of the Hopi people

“It’s home to our ancestors and we need to protect it

Crystal Drey, Hopi Tutuvoni

When you hear the name called Black Mesa you think of Peabody Coal Co. on the end, but the end story is more of Black Mesa than just coal; it’s a place that dates back hundreds of years.

Black Mesa was a “stepping stone” place for their way on their three routes according to Leigh Kawanwisiwma.

Kuwanwisiwma, Director of the Hopi Cultural Preservation Office (CPO) talks about the history of Black Mesa and wants people to know that it’s a historical landmark.

The area in Black Mesa that Kawanwisiwma is referring to is called Likoko to Ho- pi and J21 and J21 West to the mining company. This area is a part of the mining lease that was signed between the Hopi Tribe and Santa Royalty Company in 1966, approved by the Hopi Tribal Council (HTC) under resolution H-12-66 on May 16, 1966. Then in 1967, HTC approved resolution H-12-67 where, Santa Royalty Co. assigned all its rights to Peabody Coal Co. Since then Peabody Coal Co. has been the lessee.

The white and tan road is a part of the mining lease that was signed between the Hopi Tribe and Sentry Mining Company. Since then Peabody Coal Co. has been the lessee.

“Of the entire lease areas located in Black Mesa, J21 and J21West have the best coal and are adjacent to the Hopi lands and to the Hopi people,” said Kawanwisiwma. “A white road to Peabody to mining with this will happen in 2016 or 2017; they will move in heavy equipment.”

Kuwanwisiwma said it’s very important that everyone knows the history of Black Mesa because archeological resources like ruins and the impact on burials is currently happening out there.

“People need to know that Black Mesa is their ancestral homelands,” said Kawanwisiwma. “Claim that came from the north settled there. It’s home to our ancestors and we need to protect it.

The Hopi Senom Transit has established five goals they would like to accomplish this year:

1. Conduct a feasibility study to develop a five year transit plan by September 2015.
2. Indictly a site for a transit or transportation facility by September 2015.
5. The Hopi Senom Transit currently has promotions they provide every Wednesdays called, Wacky Wednesday where transit riders pay a one dollar fee for the Keams Canyon route and two dollars for the Winslow and Flagstaff routes. They also gave free local transportation on Election Day in hopes of getting people to the voting polls.

Hresie Twoha Yatagh, Case Manager Hopi Cancer Support Service

Hello Ranchers,

Hopi Certified Beef is a program that has been ongoing since 2011. My name is Rose Tenakhongva from the Village of Hotevilla and I am of the Coyote clan. I work with the Hopi Cancer Support Services as a Case Manager for the Fit @ Fifty Colorectal Screening Program.

Through documenting the “Added Value” processes mandated in the program, By following the “Standard Operating Procedures” of the HCB program (outlined below) Hopi Stockmen can become eligible to sell their calves right along with the HCB cattle and thus increase their value by utilizing the Market Sales Power the Hopi Three Canyon Ranches production practices and take advantage of, the Hopi Three Canyon Ranches production practices and raising cattle on the Hopi Reservation, to participate in raising cattle on the Hopi Reservation, to participate in and send reminder letters to return the test kit back to the Lab at HHCC, as well as reminding the clients with abnormal results to get to their follow-up appointments. If you all know our inaugural year was a great success for you and you have been working on. It is the Hopi Certified Beef Program of Range Management.

Before we get into the program I want to thank all of you for your interest and support of this program. As the program will continue to June, 2017. - Another screening for Colon Cancer is Colonoscopy, it is quick (usually less than 30 to 45 minutes). A colonoscopy is a common procedure in which a healthcare professional (usually a gastroenterologist), examines the entire lining of the large intestine, which includes the colon and rectum. The examination is done to check for polyps (benign growths), abnormal growths that can grow into cancer, as well as to diagnose other gastrointestinal problems such as inflammation and bleeding. Colonoscopy isn’t exactly a glamorous procedure. It may be slightly uncomfortable and embarrassing, but the fact remains, colonoscopy is the standard for preventing or catching problems in the colon and rectum. If you have been scheduled to have a colonoscopy, please keep your appointments and taking an important step in caring for your health.

- The Hopi Cancer Support Services will be planning events for March, all related to Colon Cancer Awareness Month. On March 4th, we will be on KUYI's House Calls. Fellow ranchers it is that time of the year again to get your annually required immune procedures. It is the Hopi Certified Beef Program.
