First Mesa Elementary students deliver message to Tribal Council to help resolve unsafe water conditions

FMES students pose for a picture outside the Legislative Building after delivering message to Tribal Council

In a standing room only Hopi Tribal Council chamber, students from the First Mesa Elementary school delivered a strong message to the Hopi Tribal Council, urging Council to take immediate action to help resolve the dangerous and unsafe water conditions on the Hopi Reservation.

“Over the past several months, we have been discussing current events in our class,” said Mavasta Honyouti, 6th Grade Teacher. “One particular event that interested them most was the occupation and resistance of the water protectors at the Standing Rock Reservation against the Dakota Access Pipeline. The momentum of that movement inspired students to focus on incidents happening in our own villages and reservation. Students focused on the water quality at the First Mesa villages. The arsenic levels are dangerously high and students are concerned.”

Members of the Hopi-Tewa Community movement along with Teachers accompanied students and opened up the presentation by telling Council that the dangers from high levels of arsenic and unsafe water conditions (primarily in First and Second Mesa areas), pose grave concern for serious health related conditions; including cancer, diabetes and is detrimental to the health and well-being of the Hopi people.

Members of the grassroots Movement has placed the dangers and threats of the unsafe water conditions a priority and have been actively advocating for action and results to help remedy the problem. Through research, they have learned that the high levels of arsenic and contaminants is not only unsafe for drinking but is also unsafe to the body when showering, bathing, and washing clothes and cooking/eating utensils.

Hopi Tribe requests tribal-State Gaming Compact

Louella Nahsonhoya

By a majority vote of 12 in favor, 4 opposed and 0 abstaining, the Hopi Tribal Council approved Resolution H-110-2016, authorizing and directing Hopi Chairman Herman G. Honanie to request a State Gaming Compact with the State of Arizona and the Hopi Tribe.

With a declining revenue, the Hopi Tribal Council continues to discuss and pursue economic development opportunities, as a priority, to maintain a balanced tribal budget consistent with the purpose of serving the welfare of the Hopi people.

On Aug. 6, 2015, the Council created a Hopi Gaming Task Team with the assignment of exploring the Advantages and Benefits of Tribal Gaming and the leasing of Hopi gaming machines to Tribes who already have established Casinos.

The Team visited and met with several Gaming Tribes and compiled a Final Report which they presented to the Tribal Council on October 3; after they had presented their findings to the Hopi people at Village meetings and also in Phoenix, Flagstaff and Albuquerque.

The Council accepted the Report and the Recommendations of the Task Team in which they recommended the Hopi Tribe enter a Gaming Compact with the State of Arizona.

Hopi Special Diabetes program hosts Qua'ah and So'oh Rodeo Day

Elders enjoy themselves at Qua'ah and So'oh Rodeo Day

The Hopi Special Diabetes Program held a “Qua'ah and So'oh Day”, a rodeo themed event on Nov. 17 at the Hopi Veterans Memorial Center (HVMC).

Hopi Elderly Centers from Moenkopi, Hotevilla, Bacavi, Shungopavy and First Mesa Villages as well as elders from across the reservation attended the day of activities that consisted of events like; barrel racing, pole bending, team roping and goat tying.

Beatrice Norton, Director of the Office of Adult and Aging Department said the event began four years ago as a way to get elders active..

“The Special Diabetes Program came up with the idea to have a day of activities for the elders where the first was a Native Fitness Day where they danced to our traditional dances,” said Norton. “The idea of this event is to keep the elders active.”

The event began with warm up exercise for the elders to participate in the rodeo events. Elders signed up to participate in any of the rodeo events of their liking. Many signed up for more than one event or more.

Norton said she was surprised that a lot of the elders stepped up to participate in the events or made the attempt to.

There were 10-20 participants for each of the events and they were being timed like an actual rodeo. Participants with the lowest time won ribbons for first, second and third place.

The last event was a horse show; each of the Elderly Centers entered a horse into the event. Most were stick horses; Walpi village entered a horse made of paper mache.

Along with the rodeo activities was a craft show; elders who entered the craft show were judged on their crafts and received ribbons.

The Hopi Nutrition Center provided lunch of pulled barbeque pork, ranch style beans, coleslaw and cornbread.

The Hopi Nutrition Program encourages elders to be active. During the week when elder centers come to the Nutrition Center for lunch, they visit the Wellness Center to exercise.

Norton said the Elder Activity Day evolved throughout the years and the event planners began to put a theme to every event and have encouraged elders to dress according to the themes.

The idea spun off of a program called “Enhanced Fitness”, an exercise program intended for seniors where the Wellness Center visited Elder Centers across the reservation to hold exercise sessions with the seniors.

“They have modified the exercises where the seniors can sit and exercise,” said Norton. “Some of the seniors can't stand for long periods of time.”

Norton said she encourages seniors who are 55 and over to come to future events to for a day of socializing and exercise, and to just get out of the house.

From P1 HTC approves 2017 Budget

Due to the shortfall in the Hopi Tribe’s Revenue, the Budget Oversight Team (BOT), chaired by Vice Chairman Alfred Lomahquahu, Jr. was directed to complete a proposed FY 2017 budget with a 12% cut from the FY 2016 approved budget. Challenged with the reduced revenue and directive from Council, the task proved to be burdensome as many Departments, Programs and Villages, were greatly impacted and some programs would be left with zero dollars to operate. After several months of work and careful review of all budget proposals, the BOT, spearheaded by Budget Analyst Wilfred Gascoma, presented the first recommended budget to Council for a preliminary review in October. At that time, the Council made their “priority” recommendations to either cut and/or not fund certain programs. Four Villages, lacking financial audits, were only funded $82,500 (to complete their audits) The Council stated ALL villages/communities must complete an independent audit for FY2015/2016 of all village financial records, assets, liabilities, capital accounts, revenue, investments and expenditures. After receiving recommendations from Council, the BOT notified programs to resubmit their budgets at the recommend amounts. BOT presented their final recommended budget to the Tribal Council in November, at which a few programs and Villages appealed their budget cuts to Council. After careful consideration Council either approved/disapproved adjustments to their operating budgets. Although a reduced budget will greatly impact everyone, the adjustments are critical in order to keep the priority services of the Hopi Tribe functional. This will necessitate careful planning and effective business management practices by everyone involved. The full budget and budget appropriations language as directed and approved by Council, including the drawdown proccess for Villages will be published in the Dec. 20 edition.

From P1 Gaming Compact

Under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act and various Arizona statutes governing Indian gaming, the Hopi Tribe is entitled to an allocation of 900+ gaming machines and the right to deploy those machines in up to 3 casinos licensed to conduct Class III gaming. The AZ Revised Statute section 5-601.02 further requires that “If the tribe enters into a transfer agreement to transfer some, or all, of its gaming device operating rights, the tribe shall also execute a forbearance agreement with the State.” According to the Resolution approved by the Tribal Council, “due to the absence of any discernable negative cultural impact to the Hopi Tribe and in light of the considerable potential economic benefit to be derived from entering into a Compact, the actions authorized by this Resolution do not require another referendum of the Hopi and Tewa people prior to Hopi Tribal Council authorization.” Chairman Herman Honanie was therefore directed to take all actions necessary to fulfill the intent of the Resolution and to report back to the Council when the Actions have been completed. As directed, Chairman Honanie sent a letter to AZ Governor Doug Ducey on November 15, requesting a Tribal-State Gaming Compact between the State of Arizona and the Hopi Tribe. No further information was available as of press time on the response from Governor Ducey’s office.

XV. ADJOURNMENT

Obama should protect Grand Canyon while there’s still time

By: Rep. Paul M. Gualva (D-AZ) and Hopi Chairman Herman G. Honanie

The Grand Canyon is recognized by the United Nations as a World Heritage Site thanks in large part to its unsurpassed beauty, which encompasses extensive stretches of old-growth forests, unique geologic features and pristine watersheds. Thousands of plant, animal and aquatic species, some of which are found nowhere else on Earth, thrive above and below the canyon rim, right down to the Colorado River itself. The area has been home to humans for more than 12,000 years, a span that includes some of the earliest known cultures here in North America.

The Hopi tribe considers the Grand Canyon a place of origin, a spiritual home and sanctuary of cultural tradition. The tribe’s history and culture cannot be separated from it. For generations the entire community has considered the Canyon hallowed ground. Few issues unite the tribe like the continued preservation of the Grand Canyon and the surrounding area, and that’s why today the Hopi strongly support the proposed Greater Grand Canyon Heritage National Monument. President Obama should use his power under the Antiquities Act to establish this monument and protect this sensitive land while there’s still time.

Hopi ancestors left behind abundant and tangible proof of their existence here. These footprints of Hopi history include ancient villages, migration routes, artifacts, petroglyphs and the physical remains of buried ancestors. These are remembered and maintained through oral tradition, pilgrimage, song and prayer. Among the many other values a well-preserved Grand Canyon provides the people of this nation and our entire planet, these culturally important places must be protected to ensure Hopi people can continue to interact with their ancestral past. This interaction forms a living connection between Hopi people, their ancestors and the Grand Canyon itself, which is just as important today as it has ever been.

This connection continually reminds Hopi of the responsibility to preserve essential qualities of life: clean air and water, unspoiled wilderness - and the peace of mind that comes with knowing future generations will enjoy these same gifts. The Hopi tribe is aware these qualities are under continued ecological threat from uranium mining, unregulated development, loss of old-growth forests and the degradation of watershed areas. The Greater Grand Canyon Heritage National Monument will end those threats and protect one of the world’s greatest unspoiled natural areas once and for all.

When the balance of nature is disrupted, especially by something as dramatic as the construction of a mine or the diversion of a river, the landscape cannot simply be put back together as it once was. Such impacts negatively affect not only the natural and cultural values of the Grand Canyon region, but the spiritual values that are at the heart of Hopi tradition.

That’s why Chairman Honanie hand-delivered a letter to President Obama in April urging him to establish the Greater Grand Canyon Heritage National Monument before he leaves office. It applauded his efforts to recognize and preserve culturally important Native American sites around the country and asked him to “afford the Hopi, and all other Tribal Nations that hold the Grand Canyon as sacred, the same respect and dignity by bestowing Monument status on the Grand Canyon watershed.”

The Hopi tribe is firmly committed to working with presidential staff, congressional representatives, federal, state and local agencies in the development of this monument. In doing so, the tribe will rely on its traditional values of humility, cooperation, dedication and mutual respect. These values are the foundation of its unified call for the protection and preservation of lands that remain as important to the Hopi cultural landscape today as they have been for centuries.

Rep. Raúl M. Grijalva (D-Ariz.) is the ranking member of the House Committee on Natural Resources. Herman Honanie is the chairman of the Hopi tribe.

The group spoke of the consequences of unsafe water to young children and youth who still have strong bodies. They also talked about the effects on babies from nursing mothers as well as the unborn.

The group is in strong support of completing the Hopi Arsenic Mitigation Project (HAMP) and encouraged Tribal Council to prioritize water issues and appropriate H-13 Tribal funds to support completion of the Project. To date, two wells have been drilled near the Turquoise trail area through funding provided by the EPA. Because of the Tribe’s incomplete financial audits, it has been a challenge to apply for Grants.

Before the group concluded, they told the Council to expect their continued presence and challenged the Council to provide quarterly updates to the Hopi people on their efforts to resolve the water conditions and bring clean, safe water to the community.

In their classrooms, FMES students wrote letters to Tribal officials about their concerns and learned that members of the Hopi-Tewa community movement would be attending a Council meeting on Nov. 21. Honyouti’s 6th grade class was invited to attend and present their letters of concern.

“I knew this would be a tremendous opportunity for the students to pursue an active role in their community,” said Honyouti.

The children spoke and and the Council took to heart what they had to say.

3rd grade students made posters and presented each Council member with a poster. Messages on the posters were inscribed with essays and pictures of the importance of water. Two students, Sheldon Joseph, 3rd Grade (Sichomovi Village) and Luther Emerson Jr., 6th Grade (Shungopavi Village) read their letters aloud to the Tribal Council. One student stated: “The elders and adults always talk about doing things for future generations, our children and our children’s children. We are the children they are talking about.”

“This moment is the first of many where the students will be working to make a change,” said Honyouti. “They understand their actions and words are purposeful. I am very proud of these students.”

Before leaving, the children recited their Daily Pledge to Tribal Council:

First Mesa Elementary School

6th Grade Daily Pledge

Today is going to be a great day.

I thank the Creator for waking me up today.

I’m going to school so I can learn, go to college, and be the leader that the Creator has made me to be.

Today I will be empowered by my teachers, with the tools to be successful within my village and throughout the country.

I will apply myself daily. I study and ask questions when I don’t understand.

When I’m confronted with a problem or conflict, I think before I react.

I will ignore all negative influences in the classroom and throughout the school day.

I’m extremely proud to be the next generation of Hopi and Tewa leaders.

I accept responsibility and I love the challenge.

Hopi Department of Transportation awarded funding for Sign Upgrade and Replacement Project

Crystal Dee
Hopi Tututuvani

The Hopi Department of Transportation (HDOT) submitted an application to the Highway Safety Improvement Program (HSIP) to receive funds for signage upgrades and replacement, and stripping. The Sign Upgrade and Replacement Project and Stripping Project are sponsored by the Northern Arizona Council of Governance (NACOG), which the Hopi Tribe is a member of. HDOT was approved for the sign upgrade and replacement project at 100% with no matching funds required.

“The Highway Safety Improvement Program (HSIP) is a core Federal-aid program, and the goal of the program is to achieve a significant reduction in traffic fatalities and serious injuries on all public roads, including non-State-owned public roads and roads on tribal lands. The HSIP requires a data-driven, strategic approach to improving highway safety on all public roads that focuses on performance.” (U.S. Dept of Transportation)

Michael Lomayaktewa, Director of HDOT said these funds were available to tribes, but only Hopi and Navajo applied.

“We were required to take inventory of all the signs within the villages and major roadways,” said Lomayaktewa. “We also included the state highway in the inventory as well.”

Both Hopi and Navajo tribe will split $50K in FY2017 for the design phase of the sign replacement project and then an additional $500K plus for construction.

“Right now there is no set amount of how much money Hopi will receive, but our submission is that we have done all of our footwork already,” said Lomayaktewa. “NACOG did inform us that a majority of our signs were approved for replacement.”

Lomayaktewa said getting funds to replace the signs is significant because individual signs are costly to replace. A standard speed limit sign can cost anywhere from $75-$125, and that is not including the post (hardware).

“We currently have old signs that are ineffective during the evening and weather related events because of the lack of reflectivity,” said Lomayaktewa. “Having proper signage will help to reduce traffic fatalities and serious injuries.”

Signs that will be replaced are regulatory signs such as stop signs, speed limit signs, yield signs and cautionary signs; and information signs and mile markers.

The actual construction of the sign replacement and upgrade will take place in 2018; Hopi will contract with the State who will replace all the signs. The new signs will be whatever the standard is at the time of replacement.

Hopi was not approved for the Stripping Project because they did not meet the requirement which was a systematic approach where all of the roads had to be interconnected.

“If we had known that, we could have used the state highway to be re-stripped and we would have met that eligibility,” said Lomayaktewa. “We will have to wait for the next opportunity and we will submit another application.”

Lomayaktewa added being approved for the signage project was made possible through everyone’s work in the passage of the “Hopi Strategic Highway Safety Plan”. This safety plan will be useful in sharing certain traffic fatalities that can be used in data reporting to make improvements on Hopi roadways.

“Crash data collection is very important to us,” said Lomayaktewa. “This will also help first responders when they come upon an accident and finding the cause. We are educating one another.”

Lomayaktewa reminds everyone to eliminate cell-phone use while driving; he hopes to start a campaign on this in the near future.

Fall Proves To Be Busy Time For HEEF and Its Board

Student honorees at Creating Pathways event

The Hopi Education Endowment Fund (HEEF) saw an eventful month of October. During that month, the HEEF held its 13th annual Alumni Challenge, and also hosted its 3rd annual student & donor recognition event, in addition to holding its annual public meeting and electing new officers to its Executive Committee (EC). The student & donor recognition event and the annual meeting were both held in Tucson at the University of Arizona, on October 21st and 22nd, respectively.

At the annual meeting, the HEEF board members and staff convened to discuss the HEEF’s work over the past year. HEEF staff and board (and others in attendance) also received updates from HTGSP and portfolio information from Merrill Lynch.

One of the main highlights of the meeting was the ratification of newly elected members. Tessie Moate (Kykotsmovi), Candace Hamana (Moen-copi), Carrie Watahomigie (Shungopavi), Wanda Jean Lord, and Jana Wilbricht were the five new members elected. Re-elected members include Romalita Laban (Walpi), Dr. Angela Gonzales (Shungopavi), Janet Regner, Dr. Pam Powell, and Dr. Kim Kahhe-Corkin (Sipaulovi) who served as EC president from 2015-2016.

Officers for the 2016-2017 term were elected by the The HEEF EC on October 26th. The EC is responsible for overseeing the Fund and providing guidance and leadership for the HEEF. Taking Dr. Corkin’s spot as president is Romalita Laban, who formerly served as vice president. Laban currently serves as First Mesa Representative on the Hopi Jr/Sr High School Board.

Other HEEF EC officers elected include Trevor Reed (Hotevilla) - vice president, Capt. DeAlva Honahnie (Oraibi) - treasurer, and Debbie Nez Manuel - secretary. Reed is a former HEEF recipient who is currently working towards a doctoral degree from Columbia University. Capt. Honahnie formerly served as CEO of Hopi Health Care Center. Manuel currently works as Executive Director of Morning Star Leaders, Inc.

Members whose board terms ended include Dr. Jeremy Garcia, Debbie Onsaie and Arvis Myron. LuAnn Leonard, HEEF Executive Director, wished to express thanks to all the outgoing HEEF board members. “Askwalí to all of our members for their selfless commitment of time and energy and other resources given to support the HEEF’s mission,” said Leonard.

As a way of showing thanks to its students and donors, the HEEF themed its fall event “Creating Pathways...”. The theme was meant to be representative of those who help pave the way for future generations to receive an education.

During the event, students in the Tucson area who currently receive funding from the Hopi Tribe Grants & Scholarships Program (HTGSP) were given certificates and gift bags. SRP and Peabody Energy, who sponsored the event, presented a check for $200,000 for the 2016 scholarship awards. The event also included a successful silent auction, which raised over $1700 and consisted of several pieces donated by Hopi artists and other generous donors.

Another fundraising effort at the event was the conclusion of the HEEF Alumni Challenge, which is a fundraising competition among the three Arizona universities and other schools across the country. The competition began on October 7th and ended with the Arizona Crushers (alumni from non-AZ universities) being announced as the winners. The challenge raised over $4,000, due in large part to donations and support from HEEF board members.

The Hopi Education Endowment Fund is a non-profit entity of the Hopi Tribe.

HHS Cheerleading squad “starting all over”

Stan Bindell
Hopi Tutuveni

Hopi High School’s cheerleading had one of its best years last year when they competed at regionals, held a little girl cheer camp, performed stunts for Second Mesa Day School and brought spirit to Hopi Jr/Sr High School.

But Coach Jessica Erale left earlier this year and the cheerleaders have been searching for their identity since that time.

About 18 students have gone out for the basketball season cheerleading squad.

“That’s the most we ever had,” Capt. Greta Quotskuyva said about the squad.

Larren Masayesva joins Quotskuyva as co-captains and seven returners join the cheerleading unit.

Quotskuyva said cheerleading is important because cheerleaders serve as ambassadors representing the school, the community and themselves.

“Our goals are to try to build confidence, make the cheerleaders outgoing, aware of their surroundings and better people,” she said.

Quotskuyva doubts that the Hopi High cheerleaders will enter any competitions this year.

“This year is nothing like last year. This year it’s more on me. I am showing the girls what to do, how to do their cheers and their forms. It’s stressing me because some of the girls have attitude. I never had attitude with the past girls,” she said.

Quotskuyva said if she keeps pushing the cheerleaders, and having late practices, that they will get the job done.

She said the best part of cheerleading is the performances including dancing, yelling, showing school support, being at the games and watching everything that happens.

“It’s cool.I like it,” she said.

Quotkuyva said this season is like starting all over.

The Tutuveni is published on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of the month

HOPI TRIBAL HOUSING AUTHORITY Homeownership Program

The HTHA Homeownership Program is committed to providing Homeownership opportunities. The Homeownership program is to provide housing services to low/moderate income Hopi families and to permit each applicant the greatest opportunity for the exercise of individual rights, that are compliant with NAHASDA rules and regulations pertaining to the Admission and Continued Occupancy.

The Homeownership program requires an annual income of $14,000, and cannot exceed the income limits based on family size. The Homeownership program will maintain a waiting list of all applicants with authorized land assignments. When a new project is scheduled to begin, the HTHA will select eligible applicants from the waiting list based on need and other factors using scoring criteria to determine priority, and notification to applicant will be completed accordingly.

HTHA Homeownership Intake & Eligibility Application Process:

(1) It is encouraged that a face to face meeting occur with all the adult members of the household, to ensure that the correct program application(s) are provided and explained in detail, also with the request of addition verification forms that may be required to complete the eligibility determination process.

(2) Assist applicants with information regarding program eligibility, program options and services provided by the Hopi Tribal Housing Authority that would best suit the household needs.

(3) A limited background check will be completed on all household members over the age of 18, to ensure that the household will not have detrimental effect on other residents due to habits, practices, and criminal activity.

(4) Applicant’s determination of eligibility is made by using the following program requirements and income limits: NAHASDA 80% National AMI Homeownership.

(5) Once and applicant has been determined eligible the household is placed on a waiting list. Homeownership requires an official land assignment from one’s respective village as part of the application process.

(6) Once a project is funded, Land Assignments will then go through a Site Feasibility Study which will initiate the Service Line Agreement (SLA) Process if site is determined feasible.

(7) Eligible Applicants are required to attend the Mandatory Homebuyer Education Training sessions.

(8) If an applicant declines a unit he/she will be moved to the bottom of the waiting list.

(9) If the unit is accepted and the household is still program and income eligible (update is completed at that time), a move-in will be scheduled with RSS.

(10) All applicants must update their application every 12 months for all Programs.

We look forward to making your Homeownership dreams come true!

Hopi Senom Transit starts weekend trial run to Flagstaff

Crystal Dee
Hopi Tutuveni

The Hopi Senom Transit started a weekend trial run into Flagstaff last month to see how many riders they would get.

Shawn Silas, Transit Supervisor said the trial run is on volunteer basis because the drivers work 40 hours a week, but is hoping to hire a part-time driver to do the weekend route next year.

There will be another trial run on Dec. 10 starting at 7:10 am from the Hopi Police Department with stops at Circle M, Second Mesa Post Office, Hopi Cultural Center, Seba Dalkai Jct. 87, Rt. 87 and N50 crossroad, Winslow Wal-Mart and Kachina Square. The weekend fare is a flat rate of $4.00.

The first trial run had seven to eight passengers with additional passengers getting on in Winslow to Flagstaff where there was a layover of five to six hours.

Silas said they would like to keep the weekend route going, but due to the shortage of staff they are not able to.

“The drivers get paid for working on the weekend, but since they already worked 40 hours it’s up to them if they want to work,” said Silas. “It’s all on a volunteer basis.”

The Hopi Senom Transit is in the process of hiring a Service Technician and is also looking into hiring a temporary driver.

“We are looking for someone who is willing to work 30 hours a week; driving the weekend route and when the other drivers are on leave,” said Silas.

Another service the Transit offers is what they call a “deviated fixed route”, meaning they can make stops other than their designated stops along their routes.

Silas said they get calls from riders to be picked up along the route or requests from elders and people with disabilities to be picked up at their homes.

“That is at the discretion of the driver to determine if the bus can make to the front door of these homes because the bus is big and needs enough space to turn around,” said Silas.

A new route to Tuba City was added in September with a full-time driver who makes two trips a day. Silas said the ridership for that route fluctuates and hopes it will increase.

There are three stops in Tuba City; the Hospital, Basha’s and the Honahni Building in Moencopi.

Next year, Silas said they will use the Greyhound terminal in Flagstaff which will meet up with the bus coming in from Phoenix and Las Vegas.

Flagstaff will have two drop off points; Kachina Square and Greyhound Terminal. This is made possible through the Inter-City funding.

Donovan Gomez, Director of the Hopi Senom Transit said they are looking at ways to serve the community better.

“That is what our program is for; to serve the community not only on the weekdays, but on the weekends as well,” said Gomez.

Coochise runs in New York City Marathon

Louella Nahsonhoya
Hopi Tutuveni

38-year old Hopi distance runner, Dr. Jodi L. Coochise, from Sicho-movi Village-First Mesa ran in the 2016 New York City Marathon on Nov. 6. Coochise, the only distance/marathon runner from the Coochise family resides in Boston, MA where she practices her Counseling services. Several years ago, while pursuing her doctorate degree in Psychology, she decided to start distance running to get healthier and as a way to relieve stress.

Coochise also ran in the April, 2014 Boston Marathon, the Oct. 2013 Bank of America Marathon in Chicago, and the Hyannis Marathon near Cape Cod, MA on Feb. 24, 2013, all within a time of 4hrs, 30min. Marathons are 26.2 miles.

“With my first marathon checked off the list in February, 2013, I think I officially caught the running bug and decided to run for a purpose beyond my own personal goals,” said Coochise.

Coochise ran for a purpose when she ran in the Bank of America Chicago Marathon on Oct. 13, 2013. Her goal was to raise funds for the St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital, which she achieved and raised $2,650.00.

She likes to run in Marathons, but fortunately, did not run in the Boston Marathon on April 15, 2013, when the marathon was bombed and many people were seriously injured and lost their lives.

Coochise also ran in other major events including the: Boston Athletic Association Half Marathon in Boston, MA, Oct. 2009; the Boston Athletic Association Half Marathon Oct. 2010; United Health Care Half Marathon in Newport Rhode Island, Oct. 2011; Boston Run to Remember 5 mile Road Race, May 2012; and the Smuttynose Rockfest Half Marathon in Hampton Beach, NH, on Sept. 2012.

Dr. Coochise is the daughter of Elbridge (El) & Leanne Coochise and granddaughter of the late Jacob & Beulah Coochise.

Hopi Agency Police will conduct DUI check-points during holidays

Beginning November 16, 2016 through January 31, 2017, the Hopi Agency Police Department will be conducting DUI check-points and saturation patrols, due to the high volume of potential DUI and traffic in the Hopi area.

During the upcoming holidays, BIA-OJS officers will be targeting impaired drivers on our roadways along with driver’s license checks, seatbelt/child restraint requirements and for alcoholic beverages which are being transported throughout the reservation.

BIA-OJS officers do not want to see any families devastated by alcohol and/or drug-related crashes during the holiday season. The Hopi Agency Police Department is working diligently to make the Hopi Indian Reservation a safer place to be this holiday season.

Target Areas: State Highways 264 & 87, BIA-Indian Routes 02, 04, 06, 17 and 22. This will also include all roadways leading into each village.

Code Talking with American Indian Language Development Institute-AILDI: A Conversation with Clark Tenakhongva and Sheilah E. Nicholas

By Maya Patterson, Online and Marketing Content Intern for Worlds of Words

TUCSON, ARIZ. – The American Indian Language Development Institute presents Code Talking with AILDI: A Conversation with Clark Tenakhongva and Sheilah E. Nicholas from 3 to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, December 7 at Worlds of Words (WOW).

On this 75th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, Tenakhongva and Nicholas will discuss the importance of the Hopi language during World War II and the power of American Indian language diversity.

“The words the code talkers used are powerful and life sustaining,” says

Tenakhongva. “At the same time, they contributed to the end of the war--and to the end of lives.”

Tenakhongva is with The Hopi Veterans Affairs and a veteran of the U.S. Army. He will share the lesser-known experiences of Hopi code talkers, the complicated motivations for their service and reflections on how their service may conflict with cultural values. Nicholas is an associate professor in the University of Arizona College of Education in Teaching, Learning and Sociocultural Studies. Her area of expertise and research background includes language diversity and cultural studies.

WOW partnered with AILDI for their current exhibition, “Code Making and Perspective Taking.” The display includes historical documents and photographs about the contribution to the war effort by American Indians from many nations and is provided by the Hopi Veterans Services and Hopi Cultural Preservation Office, The Hopi Tribe.

As part of the display, questions and reflections on the military service of American Indians are collected. One participant asks, “I see that you have a book full of names of people who helped create the codes that helped the U.S. win WWI and WWII. So why is it that these names and what they stand for are not in our history books?”

Tenakhongva and Nicholas will address questions such as these as well as others brought to the conversation.

This event is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be provided. AILDI and WOW are part of the Department of Teaching, Learning and Sociocultural Studies in the University of Arizona College of Education and the event is a partnership between AILDI, WOW and the TLS Café.

75th Anniversary of Japanese Attack at Pearl Harbor to be observed at Wesley Bolin Memorial Plaza across from the State Capital, 1700 W. Washington Street in Phoenix, on Dec. 7, starting at 10:55am

Hopi High Journalism Students Attend AZ Interscholastic Press Association Conference

Hopi High students Kyle Secakuku and Breana Saufkie hang out with keynote speaker Rick Burress

Rick Burress, graphic design teacher at Scottsdale Community College, was the keynote speaker at the Arizona Interscholastic Press Association that took place on Oct. 27 at Arizona State University.

Hopi High School won three state media awards during the conference. Ten Hopi High media students attended the conference.

Burress talked about the different types of listening and the difference between listening and hearing.

“Good listening builds relationships,” he said.

Burress said that hearing is vibrations that are often taken to the heart. Hearing is having appreciation for other people.

Graphic design is quite different than fine art. Fine art is the emotions you get from the art or the emotions that the artists has and puts into their art. With graphic design, the artist often wants everyone to understand the same message.

His advice for preparing to take graphic design is to work hard in graphic communication. If photography is what you want to work with take hundreds of pictures a day or out of the week. Fulfill your capabilities and do the best work you can.

“Graphic design is important because it’s how we communicate when a person can’t be there in person. It is also how we communicate with our surroundings. We depend on technology now. Our lives are evolved around technology. Graphic design makes our understanding about our surroundings easier,” he said.

Wrestling Team face disappointment at Window Rock Meet

Hopi High School Rookie Wrestling Coach Terrence Morgan thought the Bruins were opening the wrestling season Nov. 22 as they traveled to Window Rock, but it turned out their weight classes were not established so they could not get a team score.

Before the season starts, wrestling teams go to have hydration levels checked and their weight classes are established. The Hopi High wrestling team traveled to Monument Valley to have this done, but the Monument Valley officials failed to turn in the results so Hopi High could not be scored at the Window Rock invite, Coach Morgan said.

Coach Morgan said it was like a scrimmage, but Hopi High would have won the meet as they won most of their matches against Window Rock, Many Farms and Northland Prep.

“We beat everybody and we showed that we were strong,” Coach Morgan said.

Marco Raccio, Kyle Secakuku and Keenan Villages were among the Hopi High wrestlers who won their matches.

“Everybody did well for us,” Coach Morgan said.

One good problem that Coach Morgan faces is that he has too many wrestlers. There are 14 weight classes, but he had 21 wrestlers. There were three exhibition matches so he was able to give 17 of his wrestlers experience on the mat, but that still left four wrestlers just watching.

Coach Morgan said the highlight of the match was when last year’s coach Jimmy Carl showed up. Carl now teaches at Red Mesa High School.

“Coach Carl showed up to cheer us on. That inspired the kids,” Morgan said. “Coach Carl is a good coach.”

Coach Morgan said Hopi High wrestlers can continue to improve by showing up to practice and being dedicated.

“We have a lot of kids out of shape, so we need to get into shape. By the end of the year, we should have a good showing at sectionals,” he said.

Coach Morgan said the team leaders are Ablazion Honwytewa, Jason Laban, Secakuku and Raccio.

“We need to buckle down and get serious about this sport, but we are going to be a whole lot better, Coach Morgan said.

He said his first meet as head coach was chaotic because of the problem with the athletes not getting their weight classes.

“This has been a learning process, but I’m willing to learn,” Coach Morgan said. “We have a great bunch of kids. They have done more than I’ve expected. This should be a good season.”

Mesa Media Inc. will have some new Hopi Lavyi products available to purchase in time for the holiday season; 2017 Hopi Calendar, one of five tiny books, Hopi alphabet coloring book, Hopi word cloud posters, and a Hopi Language application.

Mesa Media Inc. President Anita Poleahla said the Hopi calendar is in its third print; the 2017 calendar includes 28 color pages, moon phases, most major holidays and character traits for each month.

“The artwork for the calendars was done by local Hopi artists, most of whom are students at Hopi High School,” said Poleahla. “I tell my students to draw me something that reflects the month I want a drawing for and they create it for me. They get a stipend for their artwork as well.”

One of the new items Poleahla is excited to talk about is the Hopi language app that will be free to download on to your phones and tablets.

“We used our students for this project as well,” said Poleahla. “We used Kaden Mahle’s voice for the application and other students pitched in with their artwork.”

Poleahla said the application is a spin-off of an old Jeopardy game she owned. The application was designed by Peter Baumgard; Poleahla hopes to build on the use of technology for future Hopi Lavyi products.

New books that will be available to purchase is a tiny book titled, Ana! Too-to nuy mu’a and the Hopi Alphabet Coloring Book. The Tiny Books are simple books that will teach children simple words such as “ouch” and “scratch”. The tiny books are 10 to 12 pages and there will be a total of five different tiny books printed.

“It is repetitive words and I’m sure they will learn what the words are and how to use them,” said Poleahla.

The Coloring book is of the Hopi Alphabet and is illustrated by high school

Poleahla said she is happy to announce the Hopi Cultural Center is selling Mesa Media Inc. products if people are interested in purchasing any of the items available online.

“All of Mesa Media Inc. products are in Third Mesa dialect because of academic value and because I cite the Hopi Dictionary all the time,” said Poleahla.

Poleahla currently teaches the Hopi Language class at Hopi High School where she has students from all Hopi villages. Poleahla took a Hopi language class from the late Emory Sekaquaptewa; he taught his students how to change a word to reflect each village’s dialect. That is what Poleahla teaches her students so they can learn it in their own dialect.

Poleahla said she would like to see a Hopi textbook developed for the Hopi Language class before she leaves so that it could be used by the students.

“I will have a rough draft in place by the time I leave,” said Poleahla. “I also want to create lessons for all of the music CD’s, language learning CD’s and DVD’s we have now.”

During the summer break, Poleahla is busy creating new products for Mesa Media Inc., she is the creator and developer of all the language learning materials.

Mesa Media Inc. was founded in 2004 by Poleahla and the late Ferrell Secakuku. In 2005 they became a 501(c)(3) non-profit Hopi organization.

“The mission of Mesa Media Inc. is to revitalize the Hopi language, which encompasses the philosophy of land stewardship maintained by Hopi people for centuries.”

Through grants, they are able to produce these Hopi language learning products to keep the Hopi language alive and to keep the cost of these products at a reasonable price so that everyone can learn.

Poleahla remembers the first cassette her and Secakuku released.

“We recorded ourselves with a handheld recorder and then transferred it onto a cassette tape,” said Poleahla as she smiled and laughed. “It was a lot of work because we had to print and stick the labels onto the cassette ourselves, then we advanced to CD’s; and now I can just send a request to order more CD’s and it comes pre-packaged. We have come a long way.”

Poleahla said Secakuku was the composer on three of the music CD’s; he always knew which words to use and how it should be sung. The last CD, “Living through Hopi Songs”, they released together and dedicated it to their grandchildren.

Secakuku passed in 2007 and Poleahla believes he is still with us in spirit and each progress Mesa Media Inc. makes, Secakuku and Sekaquaptewa is looking over them.

The next learning materials Poleahla is working on is a color by number coloring book, a Facebook Hopi word of the day and is planning a workshop for Mesa Media Inc. to be held in June 2017.
